The undergraduate program at the Centre for Drama, Theatre, and Performance Studies offers a unique combination of rich and rigorous scholarship with high standards of practical training. The program provides students with an integrated set of critical and artistic skills through which to engage with broader intellectual, social, and political issues in the Humanities and beyond. Along with courses in theatre and performance theory and history, dramatic literature, dramaturgy, technology, and practice-based lab courses, the Centre offers introductory and advanced studio courses in acting, production, design, directing, and playwriting. The Digital Dramaturgy Lab (squared) (DDL) 2 and the newly founded BMO Lab in Creative Research in the Arts, Performance, Emerging Technologies and AI, with their international scope and interdisciplinary approach, present the students with a unique opportunity to develop projects exploring the use of new technologies in the context of the performing arts.

Students graduating from our program have combined majors in the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Sciences, including English, Women and Gender Studies, Cinema Studies, Sexual Diversity Studies, Art History, Classics, Religion, Anthropology, Canadian Studies, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Human Biology, Computer Science, and Cognitive Science. The Centre’s undergraduate program has access to two theatres (the Helen Gardiner Phelan Playhouse and the Robert Gill Theatre) and a number of performance and rehearsal spaces available to students and faculty.

Please note. While some of our courses are open to all students of the university, others are restricted to students in a Drama Specialist, Major or Minor program. Some studio courses (Group B) require an audition, interview, or the submission of a portfolio. While entry into and progress through most of these studio courses require certain prerequisites, the Centre can grant exceptions on a case-by-case basis.

More details, including application guidelines and deadlines, can be found on our website at: cdtps.utoronto.ca/.

The Centre’s Undergraduate Administrative Coordinator, Colleen Osborn, is also available for consultation. For general enquiries or to schedule an appointment send an e-mail to c.osborn@utoronto.ca.

CAP provides students with opportunities to participate in the operation and activities of the University of Toronto’s Centre for Drama, Theatre, and Performance Studies. This participation is part of the curriculum and allows the CDTPS and its students to organize a wide range of events and activities to complement the basic curriculum as well as to support curricular activities, events, and performances.

CAP hours also expose students to skills and services that expand their experience within theatre processes and methods and build a strong sense of community. Typical CAP hours include helping with our productions, assisting in the publicity of CDTPS productions and activities, and improving and maintaining the Centre’s facilities and equipment.

UPDATE FOR 2020-21 (COVID RELATED CHANGES)

For 2020/21, non-completion of CAP (Community Assistance Participation) activities will result in a 2% deduction from your final grade instead of the usual 4% deduction. This change is in effect because of COVID, and limited access to in-person CAP Calls.

For DRM202H, DRM328H and DRM400H:

Please note that for the 2020-2021 school year, this course requires the completion of 2 CAP activities, non-completion of which will result in a 2% deduction from your final grade. Activities counting towards CAP include the forthcoming Incident Reporting Information Session (Sept 25, 1:10 - 2:30 pm) and the Intimacy & Consent Workshop (Oct 20, 5pm – 6pm).

One or two other workshops counting towards CAP and/or other CAP task calls will be announced throughout the semester.

For DRM200Y and DRM300Y:

Please note that for the 2020-2021 school year, this course requires the completion of 4 CAP (Community Assistance Participation) activities, non-completion of which will result in a 2% deduction from your final grade. Activities counting towards CAP include the forthcoming Incident Reporting Information Session (Sept 25, 1:10 - 2:30 pm), the Intimacy & Consent Workshop (Oct 20, 5pm – 6pm). and the ARCDO Anti-Racism and Equity Workshop (S term - date and time TBC).

Other workshops and guest lectures counting towards CAP and other CAP task calls will be announced throughout the academic year.

- S Term courses that require 2 CAP activities are DRM228H, DRM302H and DRM428
We are structured like a pyramid on paper, but in reality this image is in fact turned on its side and arrow-shaped. Rather than sitting on top of a pyramid, the Directors are an arrowhead propelled by an amazing group of people connected by a shared mission and professional obligations. The pull of the leaders is as important as the push of their supporters to the program’s vitality.

LOCATIONS

We have offices in a few buildings. There are two main locations you will need to know:

- The University College Union Building or UC Union Building at 79 St. George Street.
  You may hear others refer to this location as the Playhouse, the Helen Gardiner Phelan Playhouse, or UC.

- The 3rd floor of the Koffler Student Services Building at 214 College Street. You may hear others refer to this location as the Koffler Centre, Koffler, The Gill, Graduate Office, or DC.
Historically, the Koffler Centre was our graduate location, and the UC Union Building the undergraduate one, and this continues to be the case to a large extent, although both programs cross paths in both buildings, as well as the off-site Luella Massey Studio Theatre.

All of these spaces are walking distance apart, so let’s have a walk. Have a look at the campus map to follow suit: map.utoronto.ca

Helen Gardiner Phelan Playhouse, (HGPP), room 200: a well-equipped theatre space used extensively by the undergraduate program during the academic year, but available for rent from May to mid-August.

Performance Studio (Perf), room 109: located directly below the theatre, this large open room has a sprung floor covering 80% of the floor space, natural light, and air conditioning controls. There is no permanent equipment built into the space.

Undergraduate Design Studio, room 100: located on the west side of the PERF; includes a series of worktables.

Front Room, Long Room (usually called Front & Long) and Walden Room: three rooms on the ground floor of the UC Union Building, presently set up as lounges and meeting spaces. We share this space with University College, with the Centre using them primarily for receptions, undergraduate classes, small group rehearsals, ad hoc meetings as well as formal staff, faculty, and student meetings.

Offices: see contact information for Tamara, Tara, Francesco, Colleen, and Andrew. Course Instructors also have offices in this building, on the newly renovated 3rd floor (rooms 302 & 303).

Leonard Common Room (MO 100B): a large (30’ x 70’) room with a semi sprung floor, used for acting and movement classes, as well as rehearsals of The University College extracurricular theatre company, the UC Follies. It is heavily booked during the academic year (up to 50-60 hours per week).

The building can be entered with a fob; contact Suzanne Micallef for access information. Click here for more details.

KOFFLER STUDENT SERVICE BUILDING, 214 COLLEGE ST

The building can be entered with a fob; contact Suzanne Micallef for access. Click here to for more details.
Robert Gill Theatre (Dressing Rooms, Booth, Lobby, Backstage and RM335) is a relatively well equipped, proscenium style, 170-seat theatre used throughout the year for classes, Centre-sponsored and Centre-produced events, as well as rentals. The theatre space was recently made accessible. On occasion, the dressing rooms are also used as studio and performance spaces, as the research and theory behind site specific theatre becomes more prominent in our practice-based program. Each dressing room has a full bathroom, including a shower.

Robert Gill Theatre Lobby is a multi-purpose space used for receptions, an audience holding area during events, and a meeting, or study space for our students. The lobby is adjacent to a kitchen, which is used as a shared departmental space by students, staff, and faculty.

Seminar Room, Room 330 (NOTE: accessed by keys, not fobs): a multi-purpose classroom used primarily for graduate seminars, but also for meetings, prospectus defenses, colloquia, and events that feature guest speakers. It accommodates approximately 30-35 people, and comes equipped with a projector, a screen, and a sound system.

Offices: see contact details for Xing, Elizabeth, Ariel, Suzanne, and the Off-campus faculty.

OFF-SITE SPACE, 4 GLEN MORRIS AVE

Luella Massey Studio Theatre was named in 2014 in honour of a beloved staff member who passed away. The space is used as a performance and studio space as well as a teaching facility. It is equipped with lighting and sound, and boasts a large carpentry workshop in the basement, as well as two full size dressing rooms.

OUR SPACES

If this seems complicated, wait until you learn that some of our faculty members, TAs, and Sessional Instructors in the undergraduate program have offices in the main building of the University College, while others hold their primary appointments (and offices) on the Mississauga (UTM) and Scarborough (UTSC) campuses. It is best to contact individual faculty members for specific information.

The complexity of our spatial arrangements impacts how you can use the various spaces and need to go about doing so. Our space is to your disposal from September to May, provided that you use it for your course or research related purposes, subject to availability. Anything already scheduled, or in the process of scheduling, takes precedence over more recently raised needs.

BOOK A SPACE

Please be advised that in light of the current situation around COVID-19, we will be suspending room bookings until further notice. This is to ensure everyone’s health and safety during this time. We will continue to accept any rental inquiries for future events.
Here are just a few of the resources available to our students:

- Backpack to Briefcase (b2B) – Meet and learn from our alumni (and other Faculty of Arts & Science alumni) at mentorship meals, speed networking events, career panel discussions and industry nights.
- Society of Undergraduate Drama Students (SUDS) – Build your skills and meet other people who share your interest in drama, theatre, and performance studies.
- University of Toronto Libraries – U of T’s award-winning library system offers you an extensive general collection, plus specialized collections such as the Thomas Fisher Rare Book Library.
- Navi - your mental health wayfinder

ADVICE FOR FIRST YEAR

DRM101Y1 is a mandatory pre- or co-requisite for all studio entry courses to our Group B Studio courses. Therefore, in your first year, you should enrol into our foundations course, DRM101Y1. Students can enrol directly into our other entry studio courses (DRM202H1 - Directing I, DRM228H1 - Playwriting I, and DRM 254H1 - Design & Production I) in their second year at the University of Toronto once they have declared a Drama Major or Drama Specialist and have completed DRM101Y1.

NAVIGATING U OF T: CONERNS & COMPLAINTS

When someone experiences unwanted or unwelcome behaviour, they may choose to address it through informal and/or formal processes. Whether someone opts for an informal process, formal process, or chooses not to address the behaviour is an individual’s choice. Regardless of their choice, a person who has experienced unwanted behaviour is encouraged to seek confidential support and/or consultation for assistance and support from any of the campus resource offices listed below.

Informal Processes - 3 Common Approaches:

- Speaking directly with the person whose behaviour is unwelcome
- Having someone else raise the concerns anonymously
- Having someone else raise the concerns on your behalf
Formal Processes - Each University Policy defines what constitutes a complaint and outlines the processes undertaken when a formal complaint is submitted. In general, the process will include:

- Written and signed complaint
- Notification to respondent, i.e., person(s) against whom the complaint is being made
- Fact-finding investigation conducted by trained investigator
- If allegations are supported, the University determines a resolution (e.g., sanction, reaching an agreement, training)

WORK ALONE PROGRAM

The Work Alone program is designed to create a safer environment for U of T students, staff, and faculty working alone in isolated areas on the campus, and for individuals with ongoing personal safety concerns.

How does it work?
Student, staff, or faculty members register to receive regular check-ins from the Campus Police Communication officers. If an incident occurs, or if we cannot get a hold of you, Special Constables can respond immediately.

How do I sign up?
Register by calling Campus Police at 416-978-2323, or by visiting us at 21 Sussex Ave, 1st Floor. Please be prepared to provide the following details: where you are working; how long you will be there; and the phone number you would like to receive your check-ins at. A safety assessment of your work space can also be performed to determine and mitigate safety risks.

If you see them coming, you need to act quickly and seek help. First and foremost, familiarize yourself with the fantastic SGS booklet, Essential Guide for Grad Students 2019-20. It includes all that you may need.
